DENTAL NOTICE.

Dr. J. H. BITZER, SURGEON DENTIST,

Office 713 Cameron street, opposite Christ Church.

Having removed my Dental Office to the above address, I wish to thank my friends and patients for past favors, and announce to them and the public generally that I am prepared to perform all operations pertaining to dentistry in the most approved manner, and solicit a share of their patronage. I will make a specialty of PAINLESS EXTRACTING and making ARTIFICIAL TEETH, and call particular attention to my local anesthetic, which I have used so successfully the past year extracting teeth painlessly. ARTIFICIAL TEETH (FULL SETS) $8 and up. I invite an examination of these teeth and comparison of prices.

No extra charge for local anesthetic.

J. H. BITZER, D. D. S.,
Jan 19 1m 713 Cameron street.

THE PRICE

IS IMPORTANT—

Still it is not the chief feature. Poor Dentistry is infinitely worse than none. We solicit your patronage solely on the merit of our work. That the prices are low is merely incidental and due to superior facilities and the skill which produces rapidly. In Dentistry time is money, and if our experts, with every approved appliance, can do work QUICKER they can naturally do it CHEAPER than operators with less skill and poorer equipment. That they can do it with less pain follows, as a matter of course.

She Stole Five Hairpins.

The Justice and all the officers of the Jefferson Market Police Court in New York on Wednesday were greatly embarrassed when a prisoner, Nellie Peeler, began to cry very softly. The prisoner was a bright, well-dressed young woman, 23 years of age, of refined and rather pretty features, who had been caught stealing hairpins in Stern's dry goods store on West Twenty-third street. She took five pins, that were worth altogether $5.10, and she did not seem to have the faintest idea why she took them.

Nellie came to New York on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Hauff of 2294 7th avenue. Her home is in Tivoli-on-the-Hudson, where her father is trustee of a Sunday school. Her brother-in-law is a clerk in a bank. Thursday Miss Peeler went to Stern's, where her sister has an account. She made several purchases, and was on her way out of the store when the jewelry counter attracted her attention. She stood in front of it so long that Detective Carey began to watch her. After a while he approached her and asked her what she was doing there. She turned red and became confused. He arrested her and took her to the Thirtieth street station house, where she admitted that she had stolen five hairpins. One was of imitation tortoiseshell and the others were plated metal. After allowing her to write a note to her brother-in-law she was put in a cell.

Mr. Hauff went to Police Captain Copeland's son, who is a friend of his, and asked him to help him to secure bail for the young woman. Young Copeland laid the matter before his father, who knows Hauff well. The Captain promised to get bail. A few hours later Capt. Copeland and ex-Alderman Meade of the Ninth ward appeared at the station house and after signing a bond, obtained the young woman's release.

In court Wednesday morning there was no one to make a charge against the prisoner. When she saw the Justice and the court officers all staring at her the tears began to roll down her cheeks. Justice Voorhis paroled her until the afternoon. Then with the consent of a representative of Sterns, he discharged her.

CAUGHT IN A STEEL TRAP.—A shocking affair is reported from the plantation of Mr. Joseph A. Baker, a well-to-do and highly respected farmer, four miles south of Marion, S. C.

For some time Mr. Baker had been missing corn from his barn, and last Friday night he set a steel-trap in the barn at the place where the corn had been missing. Next morning on going out, he noticed the form of an old colored woman, named Dolly Bethel, who had been for some time in his employ as cook, standing fast by the side of the barn, with one hand through the crack, quiet and motionless. Mr. Baker entered the barn, and unlocked the trap, when the old woman fell. Her hand was badly cut by the strong jaws of the powerful trap and her body was well nigh frozen, the weather being intensely cold. She was taken to the house and cared for, but died. The old woman had been in the family for a number of years, and was never suspected of being the thief.

A BEAUTIFUL GHOST WITH A HALO. There is a mystery prevailing in Canton, Ill. A sheeted form supposed to be that of a woman, has been seen walking the streets after midnight, and all efforts to solve the mystery have proven unavailing. The spook, for such it is believed to be, confines its appearance largely to the Fourth ward, but is occasionally seen on First avenue. Several well-known citizens are not fully recognizable. A curious feature of the apparition's appearance is the beautiful halo that surrounds the form. This light is easily distinguishable at a considerable distance, and especially on a dark night it is observed with unusual brilliancy.—St. Louis Republic.
